EDITOR'S NOTE

As we journey through the final stretch of the academic year 2024–25, The Love Dale family reflects with pride and gratitude on a season filled with milestones, memories, and meaningful growth.

The year began with an energizing step toward sustainability—the inauguration of our Biogas Plant on January 6th, marking our commitment to environmental responsibility. The same day also witnessed the young minds of Category A shine with creativity and intelligence in the Science and Maths Exhibition, a celebration of innovation and curiosity.

The heart of January was undoubtedly our 27th Annual Day Celebration on January 24th, inaugurated by our distinguished chief guest. The evening came alive with vibrant performances by both students and teachers, showcasing the talent and unity that define our school spirit.

January also brought cinematic excitement with the Love Dale House-wise Short Film Competition 2024–25, the prize announcement on January 20th igniting enthusiasm and storytelling passion among students.

Moving into February, our youngest learners stole the spotlight. The UKG Special Class Assembly on February 19th was a beautiful display of early confidence and coordination, proving that leadership knows no age.

In March and April, we celebrated important transitions: the Kindergarten Graduation Ceremony, the Foundation to Preparatory Transition Ceremony, and the Send-Off & Graduation Ceremony for our Senior Secondary Students. These emotional and inspiring events marked not just the end of an academic chapter, but the beginning of new journeys for our children.

Empowering our women educators, JWALA – the Women Self-Discipline Walk-In Training program provided space for introspection, strength, and solidarity.

Finally, in a fitting close to this quarter, Love Dale had the honor of hosting the CBSE Capacity Building Programme (CBP) on Art Integration on April 29th. It was a proud moment that further rooted our commitment to holistic education.

As we turn the page to a new academic year, we do so carrying the joy of achievements, the warmth of memories, and the promise of continued excellence. Here's to learning, leading, and loving every step of the way — the Love Dale way.
